FEMA's Ready Campaign educates and empowers Americans to take some simple steps to prepare for and respond to potential emergencies, including those from natural hazards and man-made disasters. Ready asks individuals to do three key things: get an emergency supply kit, make a family emergency plan, and be informed about the different types of emergencies that could occur and appropriate responses. Everyone should have some basic supplies on hand in order to survive several days if an emergency occurs. This list of emergency supply kit items is only a starting point. It is important that individuals review this list and consider the unique needs of their family, including pets, for items to include. Individuals should also consider having at least two emergency supply kits, one full kit at home and smaller portable kits in their workplace, vehicle or other places they spend time.

Thank you to the community for donating the food we needed to feed 5 families this year for Thanksgiving . Every year the community donates food or money to go buy dinners for the people that get nominated. Dinners include turkey or ham, potatoes, gravy, yams cranberries, stuffing, rolls & butter, olives, green bean casserole fixings, fruit cocktail, corn, pies and cool whip. Extras were divided amongst the families. We hope you all had a safe and Happy Thanksgiving with your families and friends.

Keep paws off snack bowls

This time of year, you like to leave a few treats in bowls for guests who stop by, but your furry pal keeps nosing around the bowl and you're worried she/he will eat something and get sick. To keep her/him out of the dish, animal trainers suggest startling your pet with a noisemaker, which will discourage bad behavior. To make your own, fill a toilet paper tube with uncooked rice or beans and tape aluminum foil over each end. The next time your pal goes in for a sniff, shake the tube and the sound will scare her/him. Repeat this a few times and she/he will learn to associate the racket with the bowl and stay out of your goodies.

If your dog is lost and you cannot find him/her,
you have options to recover your missing pooch:
Post it on the bulletin board at the Pines Office

PUGET SOUND ENERGY

Call 811 Before You Dig

Fall has arrived and you may still have plans to start construction and landscaping projects. Your friends at Puget Sound Energy want to remind you about the importance of calling 811 at least two business days prior to any digging. It is the law, and utility-owned lines are located for free.

Whether you are planning to use your employees or hire a contractor, start digging means calling 811 before each job. Outline your dig area in white paint so that the utilities will know where to mark. Even homeowners digging on their on property must call, if digging deeper than 12 inches.

Don't take a chance. Call 811 before you dig, then dig by hand within 2 feet of the markings.

Visit their Safety page to learn more about gas and electric safety, and our Business Services page for all your energy needs.

For questions, please email businessaccounts@pse.com
